$4,000 Damage In Brief Half-Hour

Damages totalling over $4,000 were wrought in one brief half-hour, Tuesday afternoon, October 12th, when from some unexplained reason, Mr. H. J. Martin's splendid barn was completely destroyed by fire.

The conflagration was first noticed by members of the three threshing outfits which were working in the near distance. There was a veritable race between the Anderson, Johnson, and the Oelstrum & Lavid outfits to reach the scene first. These willing helpers found themselves too late to save the barn, but after very strenuous efforts were able to save the remainder of the buildings.

The destroyed barn was a most modern and complete structure of recent date. During the past winter was a favorite place of holding dances.

At the time of the fire it contained a calf, a load of wheat, 1300 bushels of oats, fourteen loads of hay, five sets of harness, and a large quantity of tools and sundries which had been temporarily placed there from out the granaries. All these, together with the building being a complete loss.

The cause of the fire is yet unexplained, Mr. Martin being absent in Chauvin, and Mrs. Martin and family being out helping the neighbours.

Some insurance was carried on the building, but Mr. Martin will lose very heavily in cash and particularly in the feed destroyed.

Card Of

Mr. J. H. Martin wishes to express his heartfelt thanks to those friends and neighbours who so kindly assisted him in his recent fire.

Aviation Becomes Chauvin's Popular Week-End Pastime

The arrival of an aeroplane in Chauvin Saturday noon caused a flurry of mild excitement and when it was found that our old friend, Harold Black was a passenger, he was given a warm welcome. The plane had travelled from Hanna, a distance of 175 miles in less than two hours, being piloted by its owner, Mr. McLeod. The visitors remained here over the week-end and quite a large number of our citizens, male and female, urban and rural, took a trip up the plane.

Sunday afternoon a collection was made and Mr. McLeod, who was an aviation instructor in the military forces, gave a complete demonstration of the capacity of his plane to do stunts in mid-air.

Vital Cyr was the first local man to take a flight in the plane.

Chauvin H. S. Girls At Wainwright

Chauvin went to Wainwright Friday last for a game of basket-ball.

The locals went up intending to give the "railwayites" a run for their money. Unfortunately, providence decreed otherwise, and after a half-hour of hopeless, heart-rending terror on the part of the Chauvinites, the game ended 23 to 9 in favor of Wainwright.

Some of the new 1920 Wainwright rules are as follows: Firstly Florence Cahill was warned by the referee that she must guard with only one hand on penalty of being ejected from the field. Also that she must never have both feet off the guard at the same time; Secondly, every time our little curly-headed Erma got the ball, a "foul" would be called as she was too sure a shot and Wainwright did not want Chauvin to score goals; And thirdly, Every time a line foul was made, either by Wainwright or by Chauvin, the free throw was to go to Wainwright.

These rules worked superbly: During the first half the score was 11—0, the Chauvin girls being repeatedly told that they would probably be soon put out of the game, and in fact were thoroughly intimidated and cowed. In the last few minutes the referee did relent sufficiently to let Chauvin push in 4 or 5 goals, but then it was too late.

However, after the game, the Wainwright people treated the girls very nicely, took them home for the night and in fact were the most hospitable of hosts and hostesses.

Mr. Stewart, the sole Chauvin rooter excepting the teachers, earned gratitude of the whole team for his sympathy. Also many thanks are due to the many inhabitants of Wainwright who so warmly supported our girls in their unequal contest.

We can now appreciate Edgerton's feelings over their game with Wainwright of the preceeding week.

Winnipeg Telegram Ceases Publication

After twenty-seven years of publication the Winnipeg Telegram has ceased publication. The reason given being that the costs of production have risen so tremendously.

The coming year may see other papers forced from the field. It will be in the nature of a catastrophe if the publishing business becomes confined to a few wealthy organizations.

The local papers are having, generally throughout the West, the most strenuous time of their existence, and can only continue in business by stiffening their rates to advertisers and to readers; and also by placing on a commercial basis much of the service previously given away as 'a good fellow'.

Butter Prices Weaken

No change has been made at present but both Canadian and American markets are weakening. It is stated that butter coming in from New Zealand is responsible for this effect. It is to be remembered that Great Britain is still an extensive purchaser of Canadian butter and buys freely both from New Zealand and ourselves.

New Train Service On National Lines

With the new time table which took effect on the co-ordinated lines of the Canadian National Grand Trunk Pacific Railways on Sunday, October 3rd, very much improved service is afforded the travelling public of Western Canada. Now trains have been placed in operation over the co-ordinated lines to facilitate travel not only on the main lines of the system but also on local lines. New and improved service is being inaugurated between Eastern and Western Canada effective October 16th which will give double daily service between Winnipeg and all Eastern points, through trains being operated daily from Winnipeg, both to Toronto and Ottawa and Montreal. Westbound "The National" runs daily to Vancouver via Saskatoon and Edmonton. Through standard sleeping cars between Montreal and Vancouver are being operated in conjunction with the new service. The new folders are available to the public and can be obtained from any Agent of the Grand Trunk Pacific or Canadian National.

Warning Issued To Alberta Farmers

Information has come to the U.F.A. central office that some unauthorized persons are soliciting contributions for the big Membership Drive that is being planned. A report came over the phone from the Staveland District that some one was at work in that district soliciting contributions to the drive, unknown to the official workers.

The U.F.A. central office would like to warn farmers that anybody who is authorized to solicit contributions in connection with this drive is supplied with official receipt books and that every canvasser has a written authorization from the District Captain, who is usually one of the best known men in the district; so that there should be no difficulty in promptly ascertaining whether a canvasser is bona fide, if there is any

The hum of the threshing machine has surely been going from early morning until late at night, recently, in this vicinity and the crops are all exceedingly good. The yields being beyond all expectations.

The referendum elections will be held in this school on Monday next October 25th.

The concert in the school house, will be always remembered by all pre-school children who have long been looked forward to, took place in the school house last Friday evening and all those who attended were very highly pleased with the splendid program given. The children all did their parts in a very creditable manner, especially considering they are all young children. It sent as a success in every way. The decorations were very suitable and very pretty. On account of the busy season there were many unable to attend who otherwise would, but we can honestly say these absent ones missed a real treat.

Lunch was served after the programme. Then all the young people enjoyed themselves for a few hours with the usual pleasure of dancing.

The marriage of Miss Hazel Ground to George Stevens was performed by Rev. Norman Priestley, at Edgerton, Monday, October 18th. The happy couple leaving for a trip west later in the day. They will visit Edmonton, and continue their trip to Elko, B. C., the home of the bride's parents.

Say did you notice the looks on the faces of those Dublin kiddies in the Chronicle pictures last week? Didn't they look a lot more like they were disgusted with their job and each other rather than anxious for the recovery of the obnoxious hunger striker?

among the distinguished guests. Incidentally this is the first photograph

Certainly they were registering almost any other attitude rather than a pious and sorrowful one, and if all his sympathisers look as bored as the kiddies do, we haven't much hope of prayers doing him much good. The whole thing is ridiculous. But there's worse than that. That picture of the supposed to-be-praying kiddies, and the one of McSwiney's wife and child in the previous issue is nothing but Sinn Fein propaganda on the part of the Picture Press by whom the pictures are supplied. What about the large number of wives and children bereft of husband and father by the shooting down of policemen in the pursuit of their duty; i.e; the maintenance of law and order? Why make more fuss over a few pig-headed fanatics than the braver men? Why indeed unless this particular picture firm has been bought over by the Sinn Feiners in order to our local paper be better without pictures of any description, rather than those with a yellow tint or savouring of propaganda? Personally we prefer it without and so do quite a number of others. We are willing to own that there is no finer type of citizen anywhere than a real Irishman and just because of this we have no patience with the other kind who would seek to destroy our belief in, and admiration of, the Irish race.

If the Irish determination League can just determine what it really does want, and would determine to come to some arrangement or compromise on the subject with their equally determined fellow Irishmen, out side the League, we feel sure the British parliament would be only too pleased to give it to them for the sake of having the whole profitless business over, so that we can get down to some real work. Meantime we, in Canada, should see to it that we do not either inadvertently or maliciously countenance anything that looks like Sinn Fein propaganda

And so Premier Meighen has committed himself to the statement that the farmer is a Bolshevik! Well we wish him much joy of his mudslinging, but assuredly he has not helped to ease our doubts regarding his fitness to be Premier of a country, whose basic industry is farming. In fact, we have made up our minds that he is quite too short-sighted to ever to see far enough beyond the Big Interests (whose mouth-piece he is subservient enough to be) to give the farming cause even "the once over" it has the right to expect from a person in his position. If he had, he would know that through the treatment meted out to these farmers by his patrons has been enough to make them Bolsheviks, three or four times over, yet by reason of his nature no real farmer seeks reform by any other than the constitutional route. He has sense enough to know that you can't bring order out of chaos. He prefers construction to destruction. The rabid ravings of the Reds have no place in his vocabulary, but lately he has taken time in his busy life to insist upon having a square deal, and with a motto "Equal Rights to All and Favors to None" and on his banner is asking fair play for himself and his family and the industry he represents. And behold, those who have placed burdens on him in the past, too grievous to be borne, are troubled! They feel that by reason of his wrongs he has reason to be

CARPENEIER AND DEMPSEY MEET FOR THE FIRST TIME

George Carpentier, French heavy-weight champion and Jack Dempsey American champion met for the first time in New York last night, at the opening of the boxing show in Madison Square Garden. They were present to witness the first professional bouts under the new Walker law permitting fifteen rounds bouts with decisions in New York State.

The photo shows the two champions in the ring with Tox Richard the promoter. Left to right: Carpentier, Richard and Dempsey.

W.A.H.

Perhaps, after all they've a right to be worried for the organized farmers are enrolling in their thousands in every province. Not as "wreckers" as Mr. Meighen has it; but rather as "righters" of ancient wrongs, and neither wall-eyed politician nor phrase spouting premier can stay their progress.

They are not coming by the Red route, but they'll get there just the same. They love law and order and a settled state of affairs just as much as Mr. Meighen does, but they are not dull enough to fancy that these benefits can be attained by merely theorizing and eulogizing about them. They realize, if they are only sober-minded, that to bring about this so desirable state of affairs as advocated by Meighen, one must change the wording of the policy that is so very responsible for the unrest, discontent and the hardfeelings between classes so much deplored by this glib tongued lawyer, who has become the Premier of Canada by grace of Sir Robert Borden, and the Big Interests—but not by the voice of the people whom he is supposed to represent.

If Mr. Meighen fears this Bolshevism spreading in Canada, as he pretends to do, why does he not cut out the root of the trouble; i.e.; the policy of the Government he represents, which oppresses the many to enrich the few? Cutting off a few branches with a slash of autocratic rhetoric, here and there is only strengthening, instead of weakening it especially when he strikes with his eyes shut, as in the case of the farmers.

In the summer time households can do with less meat than at other seasons of the year. As a matter of fact the lighter fare we have the better is our physical condition. What meat is used can be prepared in what I might term summer methods, and these can be effectively displayed in various stews and in a number of cooked meats. Cold and hot savories are an excellent variant to the meat dishes ordinarily in use. Although the savories described below are extremely light, they lack nothing in food value.

MANY KILLED IN WALL STREET EXPLOSION

Troops from Governors Island are of the explosion, corner of Broad and Wall Streets. Bodies of victims may be seen lying in the street.

Livestock Prices

There has been a big reduction in the price of livestock. The farmer is getting little more than half as much for the stock that he sells as he did two years ago. Livestock has sagged from 15½ cents a pound in May to little more than half of that price now. There has been no appreciable reduction in the price of beef.

That cannot go on continually. If the farmer does not get the price, then the consumer is not going to keep on continually and uncomplainingly to pay the high price.

The British isles are so well supplied with lighthouses and lightships that a vessel, sailing round these islands by night, need only be out of sight of a lantern six times.

PRIZE REPORTS

FIRST PRIZE

EDGERTON DISTRICT
SCHOOL FAIR

It was a fine day and the fair was a great success. The competition, as you will readily imagine was very great, because there were twelve schools that took part in it.

The committee had a very hard time arranging the entries so that each would show off to the best advantage. After the entries had all been taken in and arranged in their proper classes, the judging took place. The judge found it very difficult to decide which of the many exhibits displayed were really the best and most worthy of the prizes.

For the girl in business nothing could be more appropriate than this English Picadilly tailored suit banded ads stitched with white silk and braid Fireside studio.

While the judging was taking place the lunch and sports committees performed their part in the programme of the day. The Ladies Institute served lunch to all the school children between twelve and one o'clock. Immediately after which the sports tended by Messrs Clendenan, Spornetz and Wheeler. Beside the usual twenty-five, fifty, and seventy-five yard dashes, were the fatigue, potato, wheelbarrow, and relay races.

Then came what was to the Edgerton school at least, one of the most exciting events of the day, the basketball game. Edgerton vs Aspen. In which Edgerton was successful; but it must be remembered however that Edgerton has a larger school than Aspen and therefore has a larger bunch of girls to choose from and they are more of a size than the Aspen team; and no doubt Aspen would have had a better result had not one of their best players been sick, and in her place they had substituted a much smaller girl.

When the game was over all went back to the exhibition hall to see what prizes they had won.

After the speech by the inspector of the district, on "How we can improve on our future school fairs" the prize money was given out.

It is thought that the winner of the most prizes at the fair was Pearl Davis from the Arm Lake school.

The latest but not least important part of the programme finished the much enjoyed day. It was the Basketball game between Chauvin and Edgerton. Chauvin won by several points. Although the Edgerton played well for the experience they have had beside the fatigue of the day. After they have had a few weeks more practice they will be a more equal match for Chauvin.

Let us each begin now to work and plan for next year's fair, to make it an even greater success than this one.

SECOND PRIZE

EDGERTON SCHOOL

DISTRICT FAIR

The school fair of Edgerton was arranged to be held Sept 24th, the disagreeable weather was postponed until the following Friday. The weather on October the first was all that could be desired.

The day of excitement for the twelve schools surrounding Edgerton began with estries, numerous in every class, which were carried to the Agricultural building, east of town. Every class was well represented, but a few classes exceeded the others in number and quality, such as vegetables, drawing, and writing.

By eleven-thirty a.m. all exhibits were arranged for judgement.

A free lunch was served by the Women's Institute of our town at the baseball grounds. It was enjoyed by all the children of the schools interested in the fair.

The lunch was followed by the sports, the prizes of which were generously given by the citizens of Edgerton, and were successfully superintended by Mr. Clendenan, Mr. Spornitz and Mr. Wheeler. The sports opened with high jumping, and girls races. The other events, twenty in number ran off in order and with determination to win.

A basket ball game followed, Edgerton the victor. Meanwhile the judges had completed their work, and all went hurriedly to the scene of the hibits.

In the evening Chauvin played Edgerton a game of basket ball, being successful by seventeen points.

The excitement closed with a dance given by the Edgerton Orchestra.

DEMPSEY IS TRAINING AT BENTON HARBOR FOR BOUT WITH BILLY MIKKE

An excellent photograph of the Champion in fighting post, made at his training camp at Benton Harbor, Michigan, where he is getting into condition for his match with Billy Miske, the St. Paul heavyweight, on Labor Day. This is one of the first photographs from the scene of the impending championship battle, which is scheduled to go ten rounds.

Our Weekly Sermon GO FORWARD

Ex. 14:15, Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward.

These words were spoken at a critical time at the very outset of the life of the Israelites. The Egyptian army was pressing on behind them with chariots and horsemen, and they had no means of defence. The sea lay behind them and they had no means of crossing it. They complained to Moses, and spoke of graves and dying in the wilderness. Moses kept a bold front, and told them the Lord would fight for them. He became the divine voice said; "Wherefore criest thou unto Me? Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward. It was an inspiring word to them and it may be to us.

These words contain all that is to be said about human progress. They express the fact that progress is to be the law of men's affairs. They explain the Divine purpose which marks itself in the story of humanity. We can profitably look back upon the past if we seek lessons for the future.

The words indicate the directions in which progress should be made. The first is to more knowledge. Progress in knowledge is essential in order to make progress in all other lines. Sir Isaac Newton, towards the close of his illustrious life, spoke of himself as a child who had gathered a few shells on the shore of a boundless sea. That was the way Paul felt in regard to spiritual matters, that there were yet hidden treasures of wisdom and knowledge. Such has been the aim of the Christian church ever since.

Spurgeon gives three recommendations:

- (1) Make great efforts to acquire information, especially the Bible.
- (2) Learn to discriminate between things that differ.
- (3) Hold firmly what you have learned.

Go forward is summons to individuals and to the Church to advance in Christian character. No worthy character can be formed without a basis of belief. But what use is a foundation unless it is built upon. So the command is: Go forward, build up yourselves on your most holy faith. Add to your faith courage, to courage knowledge, to knowledge temperance, to temperance patience, to patience godliness, to godliness brotherly kindness, and to brotherly kindness love.

Another direction is to fuller service. Spiritual thought and emotion are not the whole of religion. Out of this inner experience must grow a life devoted to good works. "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

The story in this chapter suggests three hindrances: (1) We shall not go forward if we keep looking back. (2) We shall not progress if we simply make time and, (3) fear may hinder us.

Game Regulations

A Copy of the game regulations for the 1920 season is to hand from the chief game warden. Of important interest is the announcement that trapping of muskrats south of the North Saskatchewan river is prohibited at all times. This prohibition will continue for a sufficient time to enable the rats to again become reasonably plentiful as at present there is scarcely any of these animals to be found in any section of the southern half of the province.

Deer, moose and caribou can be hunted during November, and up to Dec. 14. Duck and geese season ends Dec. 14. Grouse, prairie chicken and partridge season is on from Oct. 15 to the end of the month. Hungarian partridge can be shot all through October. Mink, fisher, marten can be trapped, November, December, January, February and March while otter can be trapped from November to the end of April. Muskrat can be trapped north of the Saskatchewan river from November until the end of April.

The Slump In Wheat

There is a general opinion among grain men in this part of the country that the recent slump in the price of wheat, which has been creating an uncertain and panicky condition not only among grain sellers but among all producers, might have been avoided had the policy of national marketing been continued. Grain dealers themselves do not deny that the slump might have been avoided entirely or at least have been greatly modified, had the old Canada Wheat Board continued to operate.

There was no real objection urged to the administration of the Canada Wheat Board. It carried on very successfully. It got for the farmer for his grain more than he expected. It conducted the business in a most businesslike manner.

There was only one argument used when the change back was made. That was that grain was being marketed by a national organization rather than by private organizations.

Members of the government, if we are not mistaken, were insistent that we should get back to pre-war conditions as speedily as possible. If we had learned anything during the war which would be of permanent value to the economy of national marketing of grain, we should forget it as speedily as possible. That was practically the only argument of explanation used.

And the government acted. And grain conditions rapidly became chaotic, and speculation ensued with as much freedom as before the war, and the slump came, which threatens not merely the grain trade, but other business. This would have been prevented, perhaps, certainly much modified, under the system of national marketing.

The government, of course, can restore the system of national marketing at some little inconvenience and loss. But the lesson that we should not abandon something of real value learned during the war, merely to become like we were in pre-war days, has been learned at some considerable cost.

Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children, who are taught the value of money and the habit of saving, grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 each is sufficient). After a child has saved another dollar to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of just what a dollar stands for, and how much work and self-denial it represents.

40,000 Cars Needed

The service of forty thousand railway cars will be needed for the transportation of this year's grain crops from the western district of the Canadian National Railways, officials of the amalgamated lines estimated recently.

From this territory it is estimated that the harvest to be removed by the National railway will include twenty-seven million bushels of wheat, ewenty million bushels of oats; five hundred and fifty thousand bushels of flax; two million bushels of barley and fifty thousand bushels of rye.

From these figures, officials of the Canadian National railways point out the task of providing sufficient cars and an adequate grain transportation service will be a gigantic one. They admit there is bound to be a car shortage. With an exceptionally heavy harvest, such a contingency cannot possibly be avoided, they say.

But present and past arrangements will result in the shortage being as light as possible under the circumstances and grain growers generally are asked to co-operate with the railway company in their effort to move
all grains with a minimum of inconvenience to the shippers.

Favors Reduction
Of The Tarriff

Reduction of the tariff to give the farmers opportunities to buy in the open market, was requested by the Hon. Duncan Marshall, provincial minister of agriculture, who was the chief witness before the tariff commission sitting at Edmonton recently.

"Alberta farmers have to compete in the open market for the sale of their goods. All that they ask is that they have the privilege of buying implements of production in the same manner. The reduction of the tariff burden will enable hem to prosper," he said.

"The increase of exports will bring revenue to the Dominion this year and the best means of securing this increase will be to remove the tariff on farm implements," he continued.

He pointed out that the farmer cannot possibly benefit by the present tariff. He has to compete in the open market for the sale of his crops. As an example, Mr. Marshall pointed out that this year no British buyers were in the market and that consequently the price of wheat has undergone fluctuations which will mean money lost to every farmer.

He asked that the Dominion government demand that the British government act fairly toward the Canadian livestock grower and remove the embargo on cattle.

Mr. Marshall continued by asserting that the development of the livestock trade in the Dominion is a matter of vital importance and that the embargo maintained by the British government is an example of protection carried to the limit.

He concluded by asking that the basis, and the element of protection deducted.

No More Luxury Tax?

There is a strong probability that the coming session of parliament will see considerable variation in the taxation measures of the government.

The business profits tax is likely to go, and possibly the luxury tax may be replaced by the sales tax. It will be recalled that the business tax was renewed this year despite very strong objections from business interests, which represented it to be an impediment to commercial and industrial expansion. The minister of finance took the stand that money had to be raised, and this was a tried and proven source of revenue. The additional taxes levied and the revenues accru-ing from them suggest the dropping of the tax on business in the next budget. There is also talk, but less of it, of modifying the luxury tax.

The suggestion of the minimum price for wheat seems to be generally endorsed by both the grain sellers and the grain buyers as the next best thing to the national marketing of the commodity.

Now that they have refined the burlesque shows, a man will have to stay out on the street if he wants to see legs.

The news is that the Bolshevik is almost at the end of its tether, which is not surprizing. The Soviet has lasted longer than many believed it would, and longer than it could in any country, except Russia.

Canadian sugar refiners are using all possible methods to prevent Canadian people from getting any advantage of the cheap sugar across the line, and are likely to get the assistance of the government.

It is possible that the Canadian wheat board could not have held back entirely the slump in wheat when the rush began, but there is a very strong possibility that it would have helped.
